TWO CANADIANS MEET IN SPACE (Length: 15:22)

In July, Canadian astronaut Julie Payette rocketed into space and made history. When she met her colleague Robert Thirsk on board the International Space Station, it was the first time two Canadians had been in space at once. In this News in Review story we'll look at the mission that brought the two astronauts together and examine Canada's role in space.

IRAN'S SUMMER OF DISCONTENT (Length: 13:50)

In early August Mahmoud Ahmadinejad was sworn in as President of Iran, after weeks of sometimes bloody unrest. Ahmadinejad was elected in June, but his opponents said the vote had been rigged and took to the streets in protest. At least 30 people were killed and hundreds were arrested. In this News in Review story we'll look at the controversial election and at the mass demonstrations that followed.

ASBESTOS: CANADA'S UGLY SECRET (Length: 12:47)

Asbestos is a mineral that was once widely used in the construction industry. Canada produces about 10 per cent of the world's supply, but because it can cause severe lung problems its use in this country is limited. Instead most of it is shipped to developing countries. In this News in Review story we'll look at how those sales are helping a dying industry in Canada but sickening and killing workers in countries like India.
